PORSCHE 356 A CABRIO 1958

This stunningly rare 1958 Porsche 356A convertible has been professionally restored to an exceptional standard throughout. The 356A was produced by Porsche from 1956, introducing the single-piece curved panoramic windscreen which differentiates it from the original 356.

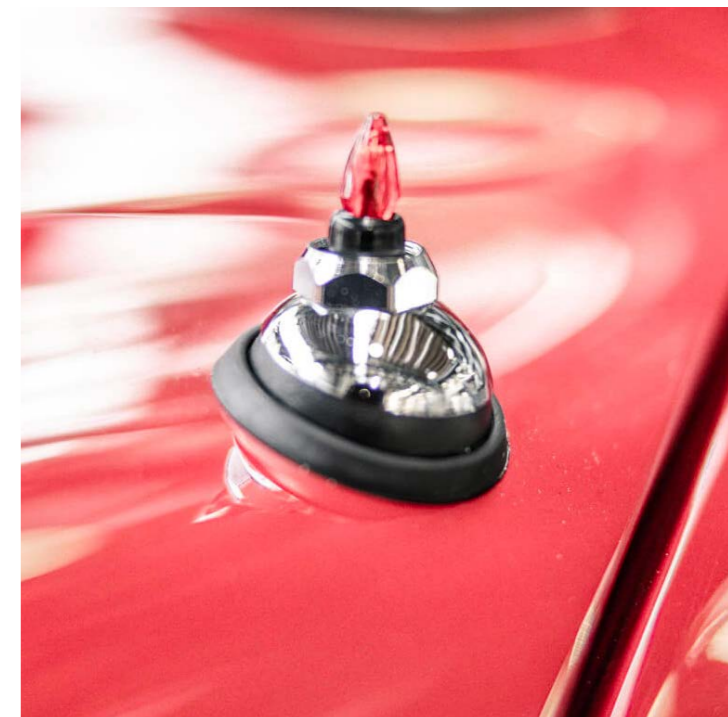

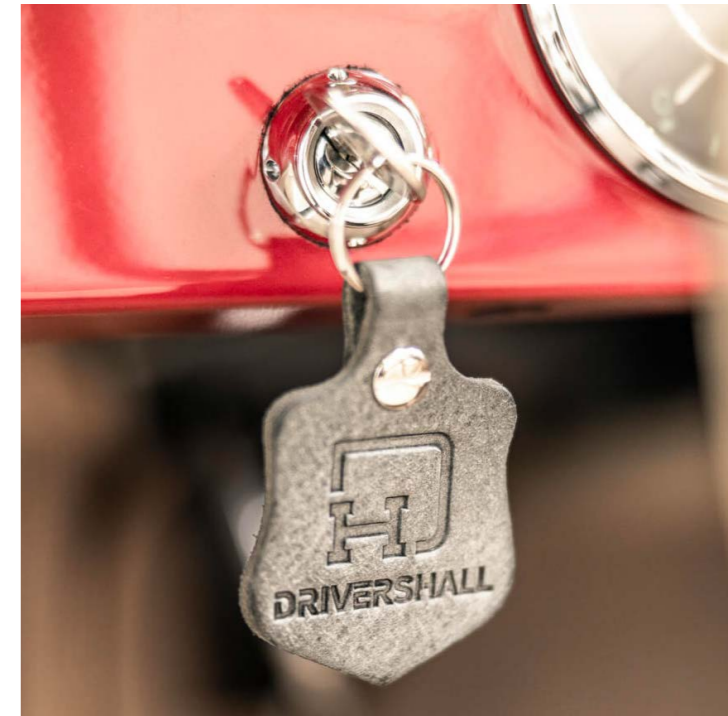

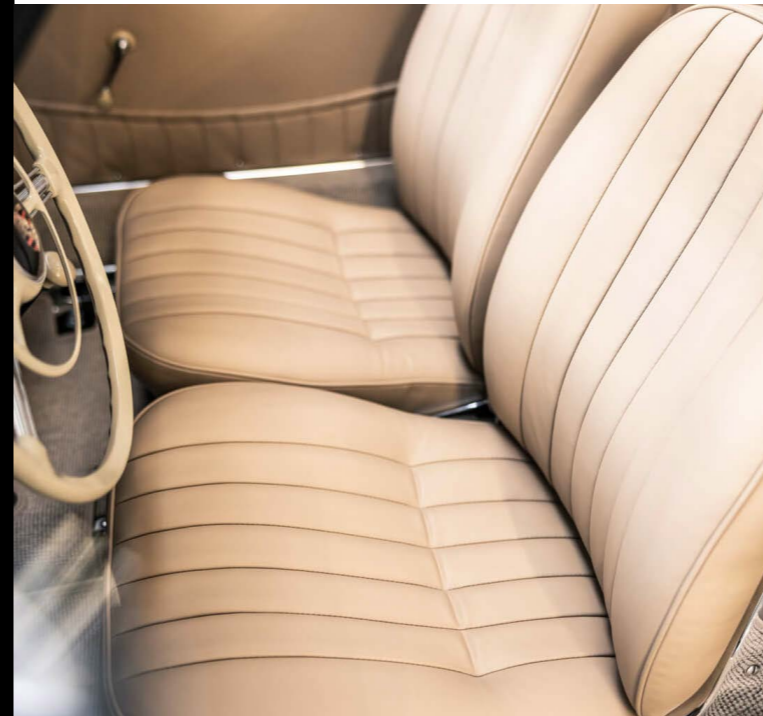

The 356A design makes it one of the most desirable classic cars and is high in demand due to its distinct simple curves, its low headlamps and bumpers and the tear-drop shaped tail-lights.

This 356A convertible in ruby red is finished with a luxurious beige leather interior and padded folding top, beautifully contrasting the shiny red body color. The full matching numbers vehicle also comes with a hardtop in a fully restored excellent condition as well. This is a rare opportunity to find an exceptional car fully restored down to the last nut and bolt.
